CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

A crusade has been inaugurated in Cincinnati to abolish Sunday amusements.

The Greenbackers have elected their candidate for mayor in Gloucester, Mass.

On Tuesday, William Lewis, brother of ex-United States senator Lewis, was drowned while fording the Shenandoah river at Port Republic, Virginia. His colored driver and pair of horses were also drowned. Ex-Senator Lewis was himself crossing the river in a skiff at the time of the accident.

The Pacific mail steamship City of Tokia sailed on the 3d for China and Japan, and the City of Synney arrived from Australia.

On the evening of the 3d, Kearney spoke bitterly, assailing President Hayes for not mentioning the Chinese question in his message. Kearney said the President told him personally that he would pay special attention to the matter.

At San Jose, Elmer Chase fell over an embankment 40 feet and received probably fatal injuries.

A shooting affray occurred on the 3d, in one of the dance houses in Spanishtown, Napa, in which a Mexican named Fimina Barrosa shot at a woman named Carlotte Castro. She dodged the bullet and it struck the bartender, plowing a furrow in his scalp.

Notice of Abrogation of the Treaty with Germany.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4th.—The joint resolution introduced by representative Springer requests the President to give notice to the government of Germany that the treaty of February 22d, 1868 known as the Bancroft treaty will be terminated by this government at the end of twelve months after giving notice. The objectional part of the treaty is the clause which provides with reference to naturalization, that the intent not to return to one's adopted country may be held to exist when the person naturalized in one country resides more than two years in the other country. If the Bancroft treaty be terminated, the rights of citizens of either country residing in the other will be terminated by the treaty of 1868, which recognizes the equal right of native with naturalized citizens to sojourn in the territories of each government.

Afghanistan Notes.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—A Lapore dispatch says that General Roberts, finding the enemy concentrated in sufficient strength to justify the hope of inflicting a crushing defeat on the Ameer's forces, has delayed the attack until the arrival of all his supplies and transports, so as to be able to follow up any advantage gained. A dispatch from the Viceroy of India also states that General Roberts is halting to allow the troops to rest and his supplies to come forward. The Afghans are at the top of Peywar pass, and are known to have two batteries of horse artillery.

Sending the Socialists to America.

NEW YORK, December 4.—A Berlin correspondent states that the government proposes sending to America the men holding dangerous Socialistic doctrines, and warns the Americans that only congressional legislation can prevent large numbers from being shipped. Influential journals here noticing the fact state that the danger to our society is much greater from this source than from any incurred by the importation of Chinese, and suggests that the President notify the German government that the deportation of dangerous Socialists would be regarded as an unfriendly act.

The latest romance about the "bonanza kings" implicates Mr. Mackay. The touching story runs thus: Hearing that Gilmore was in financial straits, Mr. Mackay investigated the condition of the band's treasury, and insured the enterprise against loss by giving Gilmore $150,000. Gilmore does not deny the general truth of the story, but says the amount advanced was not so large; and for the credit of Mr. Mackay's reputations for good sense we hope not.

CONGRESS.

An executive session followed, and when the doors were opened the senate adjourned.

House.

The bill providing for a Hot Springs commission, with an amendment that free baths be maintained for the indigent, passed. Adjourned.

School for Indians.

[Lake Co. Bee, Nov 28.]

The O'Brien ranch, north of Kelseyville, has been purchased by Archbishop Alemany and Bishop O'Connel for the purpose of establishing a school on a large scale for the education of Indians. A school building is now being built by James Male and John Ramsdell of Lakeport, and other buildings will be put up in the spring. The school house will be 26x40 feet, and will be neatly finished. The farm will also be cultivated by the Indians. The enterprise, we learn, will be undar the direction of the Christian brothers.

Delightful News.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The Herald says that W. McClellan proposes going to California to have another "shy" at Mike Donovan, not being satisfied with the "game and game" result of their two previous encounters with gloves. Donovan representing that a purse of $2000 can be subscribed in that section for the encounter between himself and McClellan for the prize, and will start as soon as the money is put in the hands of a responsible man.

A Neat French Thief.

BORDEAUX, France, Dec. 4.—The director of the mint has been arrested, charged with abstracting thirteen hundred thousand francs worth of silver bars belonging to the Rothschilds and substituting galvanized copper bars.

The scarcity of diamonds, gold and silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value. Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Aug. Kaiser's celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom, or put out a prairie fire with a tear. For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your druggists, OSBURN & SHOEMAKER, for it. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the fac-simile signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75-cent bottle. Trial bottle, 25 cents. au7eod

NEW DEPARTURE.—On and after December 1st, 1878, the store of Manning & Duck will be conducted on a cash basis. Every customer will be compelled to pay for his own goods. No extra profits for bad debts. We propose to sell goods cheaper than they have ever been sold in this market. We are compelled to this important step by several weighty reasons: First, we wish to encourage prompt payment. Second, the prompt payer should not be compelled to pay an extra profit or the slow customer or the man that never pays. Third and most important reason, we are not able to carry so large an amount of capital on our books and keep up our stock of goods. Good gilt edge customers will be allowed a credit of thirty days. If by agreement longer time is given, interest of 1½ per cent a month will be charged. A. H. MANNING.

N. B. The old accounts of Manning & Duck must be settled by cash or note by the 1st o January or they will be placed in the hands of a collector for collection.

A. H. MANNING.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.—I do no sell any goods 20 per cent. below cost, or even at cost, but I offer my first-class stock of clothing, furnishing goods, boots and shoes, hats and caps, trunks and valises, etc., which have been bought for cash at the lowest market rates. Therefore I wish the public to post themselves on my prices before going to the humbug shops where they are always drumming into the ear that they are selling at cost. or below cost. They either bought unsalable goods or they lie to deceive the public; they don't deserve to be patronized. Remember the One Price Store—The White House—No. 19 Commercial Row, next door to the postoffice. L. ABRAHAMS.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The press of California is angry and amazed at the iniquitous sale of question lists to candidates for teachers' certificates," enabling any ignoramus thus armed to cram for and successfully pass the examination. The San Francisco committee which is attending to this matter is unearthing some shameful facts. The scandal of the purchase and sale of questions, seems to be unlimited in its scope and to extend from the lowest to pretty nearly the highest in the department. Already half a dozen principals are implicated, and it is now believed that at least one hundred subordinate teachers have obtained their certificates by improper means. There will probabably be a wholesale discharge of tainted teachers.

What's bred in the bone is sure to come out some time or other. Samuel Williams began his career in the United States as a runaway from his English home, having obtained money by forging his father's name. He became professor of languages and applied sciences in the university of Virginia, and was rated high among college savants, but has just finished his career as a peddler of apples in the streets of Dallas, Texas, drunkenness having ruined him. The misery of that man's life is awful tn think of—a big brain making a losing fight against bad blood and evil inclinations.

It isn't any great wonder that Kearney suceeded in San Francisco. Anybody who promises reform ought to do well there. According to the newspapers the supervisers are a set of thieves, the heads of the school department no better, the police the same, ditto the fire department, and every official in the place, from mayor down to dog catcher, is justly held to be a scoundrel till he proves that he isn't. Let us of Reno, then, humbly thank heaven that we have a tar bucket and a better state of affairs generally.

One can't help admiring the ferocious style in which the San Francisco Chronicle goes for a man who challenges is to combat. Its knowledge of the nasty in everybody's life approaches the satanic. "Dr." O'Donnell, of the constitutional convention, having crossed swords with the Chronicle, is laid out cold by a column of carefully collected biographical facts extending over a series of years. What is left of the slain physician ought to be put under ground at once.

Here is a piece of earnest, solid truth from the San Francisco Post:

With the wealth and perfected organization of the Six Companies; a shrewd embassy at the national capital, with plenty of money at its command; powerful friends in the constitutional convention; nearly all the great corporations and monopolies and a majority of the eastern press in their favor, and the federal government not opposed to them, the Chinese are a foe whom the working classes and business men of California have good reason to fear.

It is a great disappointment to the Pacific coast that the President has seen fit to ignore in his message the Chinese question. Mr. Hayes, like nearly everybody else in the East, has probably not awakened to the gravity of this problem. In a very few years the difficulty of coping with it promises to be quite as great as that found in dealing with African slavery. It is to be hoped that blood will not have to be spilled in the settlement of this puzzle.

The plane of journalism is gradually being raised on this coast. The San Jose papers, which are having a little dispute, illustrate this. The Herald says to the Mercury: "We will print what we blank please. Who in —— is running this paper, anyway?" And the Mercury in its courtly way replies: "Oh, go there yourself!" Here is an example for us rude Nevada papers.

The San Francisco Stock Exchange makes the following excellent point:

"We notice that since Kearney's visit to the east the papers there have thought much less seriously of and have referred much seldomer to the Chinese question than hitherto. The President's reference in his message is so slight as to be more pointed than no reference at all would have been. We suppose the fact to be that Kearney brought our anti-Chinese into contempt and disgusted decent people in the east who have hitherto been inclined to sympathise with our Mongolian-oppressed workingmen. Taking Kearney as the leader and representative of California's workingmen, they naturally came to the conclusion that, as between him and such as he, they would rather have the Chinese. Hence the sudden change of the eastern opinion on the Chinese question. Kearney compared very badly with the members of that Chinese embassy now making itself popular in the eastern states.

The Carson Appeal performs a sort of ecstatic jig because the Virginia Enterprise doesn't like the President's message, and announces with equal irreverence and irrelevance that "God is marching on." While we should have liked to see the President strike out a little straighter from the shoulder at the insolent and lawless head of our bulldosing southern brother, we don't see why we should fall into a paroxysm of wrath because Mr. Hayes tells the truth with calmness instead of with the rancor of a partizan. It is very probable that Mr. Hayes' manner of touching upon the subject will raise quite as much of a rumpus as if he had borrowed some bloody shirt editorials from the Enterprise and Appeal and used them in his message. Besides, there is a prospect that the President's way will accomplish something more than putting everybody into a bad temper.

When a man is hanging by his toes from the cornice of a high building, and expects momentarily to drop, nothing so completely reassures and so thoroughly satisfies him as the sudden discovery that he is safely home in bed.—Bachelor paragraphist.

But when he reaches out for the water pitcher with a trembling hand and hears a smothered voice at his side saying, "Ugh! you brute," and the bed clothes are twitched vindictively off his legs, he rather wishes he was back on the cornice.

Kearney says that President Hayes is a very nice, pleasant little man, but he has not got as much backbone as a gopher.—S. F. Post.

It must have indeed surprised the master of the Post when Mr. Hayes received him politely instead of taking him by the collar and kicking him out of doors. Backbone like that would have done Dennis good.

The recent revelations of the public school management are more satisfactory to the foes than they are to the friends of our greatest national institution.—S. F. Post.

Fudge. What has the dishonesty of a pack of pedagogues to do with the principle of universal, unsectarian education?

A poor scrub who earned a shabby living by slaving on a Chicago daily was discharged the other day, (and afterwards was found delirious from starvation,) for writing disrespectfully of the lordly and opulent interior journalist. This fact is thrown out in a friendly way for the special reading of the two orphans of the Stock Exchange.

Nevada's senators should get on to Washington as soon as possible. Even Mr. Sharon ought to have a glimmering idea that he ought to be in the seat to which the people elected him, because on account of the absence of two or three Republican senaaors, the Democrats have a majority in the senate and will defeat any political resolutions.

Dennis is telling the people of San Francisco that he is going to wade knee deep in blood in order to get rid of the Chinese. All right, acushla, but you ought to complete your gory Boston contract before you engage to do any wading out here.

Kearney says that President Hayes promised him personally that he would write a special message on the Chinese question. Dennis had now better tell us what the Czar of Russia and the Queen of England engage to do in their private correspondence with him.

When the foreman comes in and tells Deacon Parkinson that he wants four or five columns more of original matter, the absence of mind shown by the good old man as he lifts up the GAZETTE and the scissors is only equalled by his presence of cheek in omitting to give credit.

The Virginia City Stock Ledger, Carrigan & Glenn, proprietors, now appears as a four-page daily and is full of reading matter. It is nicely printed.

Sherman on Trade Dollars.

WASHINGTON, Dec 4. — Secretary Sherman says there is a strong speculative feeling springing up to give silver bullion in the form of trade dollars a value greater than other bullion, thus discriminating in favor of bullion, held in China, against bullion in the hands of our miners. The secretary says that trade dollars will be bought as bullion upon bids each Wednesday, and that the preference will be given to trade dollars over other bullion. This is the secretary's answer to the San Francisco offer of one million trade dollars, deliverable there from China within 60 days.

Tilden's Nephew and the Cipher Dispatches.

NEW YORK, December 3.—A Tribune reporter interviewed Colonel Pelton at Gilses House to-day. The following conversation occured:

Reporter— The Tribune desires Mr. Pelton, to offer you the use of its columns for any explanation you may desire to give in regard to the cipher dispatches.

"I have nothing to say" was the reply, uttered slowly and in an unhesitating manner

Reporter -- It was thought that perhaps you might say whether any of the dispatches were incorrectly translated by the Tribune.

Pelton— I have nothing to say, sir.

Reporter— Is it true that you and other gentlemen named in connection with that matter are preparing a defense?

Pelton— I have nothing to say, sir.

"Nothing to say about your meeting Mr. Weed in Baltimore?" asked the reporter incredulously.

Pelton— Absolutely nothing.

Reporter — I am sorry, because I was in hopes you might clear up the great mystery.

"Thank you," said Pelton, with a genial smile. "I am much obliged to the Tribune for its kindness, but really I am so busy that I will have to go."

Free Ships Question.

CHICAGO, December 4. — The Tribune's Washington special says: The vote in the House upon the resolution of Carter Harrison for free ships is interpreted by some to-night as a test vote on that question. Harrison asked reference of the resolution to the commerce committee, which has a majority in favor of free ships. The point was immediately made that it should go to the ways and means committee, which is opposed to free ships. Harrison's motion to take the bill to the commerce committee was carried by a vote of 94 to 46, which is regarded as an indication that the commerce committee will report the bill in accordance with the resolution. The vote was nearly partisan, but few Western Republicans voting for the reference tothe committee.

NABOB WHISKEY.

Consumers are referred to the following extract from the report of an eminent Public Analyst:

This is a pure barley and wheat spirit, remarkable in fragrant ethers, which impart a delicate aroma, at the same time greatly increasing its value as a diffusive stimulant. The solid residue contains a large amount of tannin, derived from storing in oak casks, which imparts to fine old whisky one of its valuable individual qualities. The amount of the residue proves the whisky to be free from the excessive coloring and sweetening so generally used in adulterating. In fact, in two words, it is the PUREST WHISKY, and will not only supply a public want, now that whiskies are so generally adulterated, but will be of the greatest value to the physician in those numerous cases where pure whiskies are the most useful of all medicine.

ABELLIAR REAPPEARS.

The Worthy Old Gentleman Explains His Absence.

To the delight and astonishment of his many friends, old Mr. Abelliar reappeared at his favorite saloon on Commercial Row last night, after an absence of several weeks, and at once, with a gloomily determined air, sat down and drank large quantities of beer. When he had consumed many glasses he waxed confidential to his cronies and in wisdom spake as follows:

"You fellers kind o' thought old Sandy had give you the go-by for good, didn't ye?"

Mr. Abelliar smiled at the manner in which they had been deceived and then chuckled as he thumped with his glass for more beer.

"I aint been out a single solitary d—d night for three whole weeks. What d'ye think o' that?"

A murmur of applause encouraged the good old man to proceed:

"But you'll never see me stay home ag'in a single solitary d—d night. Wich ekalizes things. It was the work of years on the part of the old woman to get me to do it. I was brung to it an' you kin tar an' feather me if I'll ever be brung to it agin. The old woman has been sayin' in her lectures for the last twenty-five years or so how happy she'd be an' how happy I'd be an' how happy the gals ud be if I'd on'y stay home nights. She'd take to cryin' on the subjick an' the gals ud snuffle too on the delights o' home life an' at last boys, blast me if I didn't think I'd give the racket a trip just to see how it ud work. Colonel fill up these yer glasses! Well, the first night or two you'd a thought I was a new baby or a prize sheep at a fair, they made so much of me an' the gals played the pianner an' the old woman she sewed an' smiled for all she was worth, like a statter o' the happy wife. 'Now Sandy,' sez she on the third night; 'aint this a d—d sight better nor loafin' around the saloons with the toughs?' An' I owned up that it was on'y I missed my beer. I took to eatin' heavy an' readin' the papers an' goin' to sleep on the sofy after supper an' the gals got tired of an old stiff like me an' went off gaddin' about with the young fellers an' the old woman she was into Mrs. Jawswift's next door most o, the time. Las' night she stayed home an' she sez as I was a droppin' off in a doze:]

'You air a very lively companion, Abelliar.'

'Don't ye want me to take asnooze?' sez I.

'Oh, snooze es you call it, if ye want to,' sez she.

Then I knowed she wanted me to keep awake, an' I set up an' yawned.

'Whatter ye yawnin' fur?' sez she.

'Wus I yawnin'?' sez I.

'Ye know yer wur, Abelliar,' sez she.

'All right, my dear,' sez I, takin' out my pipe an' fillin' it.

'Air you goin' to smoke?' sez she.

'It looks like it,' sez I.

'Yer allus smokin',' sez she.

'Who's got a better right?' sez I.

'It smells up the room dreadful,' sez she.

'Damn the room?' sez I.

'Aint ye ashamed of yerself, Sandy Abelliar?' sez she, droppin' her sewin.'

'What fur?' sez I.

'Fur cussin' your home an' yer wife an' innocent chil'ren,' sez she.

'I didn't,' sez I.

'You did,' sez she.

'All right,' sez I, 'an' I'll do it again to oblige ye.'

Then she jumped up with her same old screech an' told me that I was a degraded old brute an' onfit for the society o' females an' that she'd seen all along that I was longin' to be back to the slums an' I was an old nuisance anyhow an' she'd be ony too d—d glad to git rid o' me, es she wus ashamed to have folks see me sleepin' an' smokin' when they called. So I jist give her a gentle choke an' struck for up town an' filled up my keg. But I didn't hev the face to come here last night.

"Tumble some more lush inter the mugs, Colonel! Boys, here's to long nights an' a good fire an' good company; with no old hens round to spile drink an' tobaccy."

The toast was drunk standing.

An Irreverant Legislator.

An enterprising contemporary has been sending a circular to the assemblymen and senators elect asking them for brief biographical sketches of themselves. They are appealed to to be kind enough to answer the following questions and to forward by return mail such other information about themselves as may be useful and interesting to the public. One of them, filled out as follows, arrived today directed to the editor of the GAZETTE:

Place of nativity — Duck Flat.
Whence to this state — Duck Flat.
Poltics in 1861 — Same as now.
Present politics — Flexible.
Profession — Scaring the rotten monopolies into buying me off.
Married or single — A Mormon who lives up to his privileges.
Age — A dark mystery.
Postoffice address — Kept carefully concealed.

Under the head of miscellaneous information about myself, I may say that I'm a pretty fair average legislator, and I don't want to subscribe for ang more newspapers or to write myself up for them like a vain idiot.

Yours in the true faith,

Nothing Cold About This.

This cold weather all kinds of cook stoves, ranges, parlor, office and bar stoves are good things to look at. If you need anything in that line, or pumps or water pipe or tin, copper or sheet iron or wooden ware, or kitchen utensils of any kind, call on J. J. Quinn, east side of Virginia street. He also is ready on short notice to do plumbing and general jobbing.

A Sad Life-History.

On Tuesday night last Thomas W. Dunn, the assayer, died in Virginia City, aged a little over 27 years. This news will send a shock to many a heart on the Pacific coast. Mr. Dunn's short life-history makes a sad and touching story. By his own exertions he had educated himself in a very superior way. About two years ago he married the daughter of Conrad Wiegand, of Virginia City, a girl of mind and singularly sweet nature. She died in childbirth. The blow was a crushing one to Mr. Dunn and although he bore up manfully, grief for the loss of his young wife sapped his life. A year ago his only brother died, leaving him the care of his aged mother. To better his condition Mr. Dunn removed to Eureka, where everything he possessed was swept away in the cloudburst of last summer. A few months ago he suffered a severe fall, and broken in fortune, health and spirit he returned to Virginia, only to die. He had many warm friends, for his quick intelligence and cultured mind compelled respect and his big, warm heart won affection. His great hope in life was that he would be united to his young wife in the beyond. Let us hope that the two pure and loving spirits are one now as they were here on earth. To the afflicted and now childless mother and to Mr. and Mrs. Wiegand, who were as parents to him, heartfelt sympathy must be held out by all.

A Reservoir Break.

Yesterday the bank of the reservoir of the Crystal Ice Company at Verdi was pierced by gophers and before the the leak could be stopped a break eighteen feet in width was made and all the water in the reservoir, which was about half full, flowed out, fortunately doing no damage to the buildings of the company. A few hours' work will repair the break, but before the water is turned in again a ditch three feet in depth will be dug the entire length of the inside of the bank. Into this trench, which is below gopher depth, the ends of heavy planks will be sunk and the bank securely boarded all round. The supply ditch is found to work beyond all expectation. It was thought that two days would be required to fill the great reservoir, but it is found that the water flows so swiftly that but sixteen hours are needed to fill it to the top. This is an important matter when it comes to sluicing out defective ice. When the planking has been completed, which will be in a few days, the reservoir will be flooded and then the Crystal Ice Company will sit down and wait for Providence to get in its congealing work.

Wandering Quail.

M. E. Ward, of Ward's rauch, Granite Meadows, Humboldt county, which is situated about 130 miles from here informed a GAZETTE reporter to-day that a few days ago a flock of mountain quail to the number of over a hundred settled upon his place. Quail were never seen in that region before. Mr. Ward forbade his men interfereing with the birds and everything is being done to coax them to stay. Mr. Ward hopes that by treating his feathered visitors decently he may induce them to make Humboldt county their home and stock it with their kind. There is plenty for the wanderers to eat.

Dangerously Ill.

The wife of H. N. Haley of Honey Lake valley is lying dangerously ill at the Golden Eagle Hotel. The lady about two weeks ago went to San Francisco for medical treatment. She came to Reno on her way home night before last and while at the Depot Hotel became insensible. She has not yet recoverd consciousness. Her husband is with her and the unfortunate lady is receiving every attention.

Bright Ideas.

[S. F. Stock Exchange.]

Who reads through the proceedings of the constitutional convention every day? Probably the man who passed Thanksgiving night in the perusal of the Bulletin's ten columns of sermons,

The Ameer of Afghanistan is said to be "strongly endowed with Christian sentiment." It looks now very much as though he will soon be able to cultivate such sentiments without being exposed to the temptations of an Oriental throne.

Mrs. Mary Silon, with two children, is still reported in a destitute condition at the corner of Union and Sansome streets, We hope that all the charity of our local Christians was not used up last week in turkeys for the state prison and the house of correction.

No one will be surprised to learn that the New Orleans Republicans don't like the nomination of Foote as superintendent of the mint there. They say he is advanced in age, feble in health, and hardly the proper person to place in charge of an institution like the New Orleans mint. The great mistake made by the administrator, of course, was in not selecting the proper person from among Foote's critics. What the country needs is a branch mint for every ward politician and a few spare establishments to distribute among the workingmen.

An Associated Press dispatch from Chicago says that yesterday Keene was "closeted most of the day with his brokers, and put in the rest of his time in getting rid of reporters." The latter mentioned branch of a public man's business is a science in itself, but Keene ought to be well vested in it. After all, however, a good, reliable bull-dog discounts most methods. We have one that we would like to sell cheap to Miss Ellie Wilton.

A Hundred Years Ago.

One hundred years ago not a pound of coal, not a cubic foot of illuminating gas, had been burned in the United States. No iron stoves were used, and no contrivances for economizing heat were employed until Franklyn invented the iron frame fireplace which still bears his name. All the cooking in town and country was done by the aid of fire kindled in the brick oven on the hearth. Pine knots or tallow candles furnished the light of the long winter nights, and sanded floors supplied the place of rugs and carpet. The water used for household purposes was drawn from deep wells by the creaking "sweep." No form of pump was used in this country so far as we can learn until after the commencement of the present century. There were no friction matches in those early days, by the aid of which a fire could be easily kindled; and if the fire went out on the hearth over night, and the tinder was damp, so that the spark would not catch, the alternative of wading a mile or so through the snow to borrow a brand of a neighbor. Only one room in any house was warm, unless some of the family were ill; in all the rest the temperature was at zero many nights in the winter. The men and women of a hundred years ago undressed and went to their beds in a temperature colder than that of our modern barns and wood-sheds, and never complained.

FELLOW'S

COMPOUND SYRUP OF

HYPOPHOSPHITES.

THIS DISCOVERY

Is the result of a series of Scientific Experiments based upon the theory that "for the successful cure of Wasting Diseases, the nervous system must be made vigorous and healthy."

One of the first symptoms of disease affecting either the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, or Genital Organs, is a loss of nervous power. This is followed by muscular relaxation, weakness, and emaciation of all the organs which depend upon them for health or involuntary muscular action, the weaker suffering first.

The Inventor, acting upon this idea, that the muscles and nerves depend upon each other for efficient strength and action, and that they must be treated directly in order to speedily and permanently cure diseases of the organs which they control, became convinced, after months of experiment, that no other preparation produced such potent and direct effects upon the nervous system as his

and except in cases of actual organic loss, that it would restore patients suffering from those maladies.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of this remedy are the following:—

Chronic Constipation,
Chronic Dyspepsia,
Asthma,
Chronic Bronchitis,
Consumption,
Chronic Diarrhœa,
Chronic Laryngitis,
Melancholy,
Nervous Debility.

Debility, resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic Prostration, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus or Wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia or Loss of Voice, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the Heart, SUFFOCATING FEELINGS caused by mucous obstruction of the Lungs and Air Passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes.

Indigestiveness and Habitual Costiveness almost always arise from weakness of the muscles and nerves of the stomach and bowels. In such cases, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicine.

Weakness of the JOINTS and MUSCLES, IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD, and INWARD WASTINGS may be cured by attention to the regular described doses, and by due regard to the habits of life.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

The power of arresting diseases displayed by this preparation is honorably acknowledged by the medical faculty in every section where it has been introduced, and the large sale is the best guarantee of the estimation in which it is held by the public

This syrup will cure PULMONARY CONSUMPTION in the first and second stages, will give great relief and prolong life in the third. It will cure ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LARYNGITIS and COUGHS. It will cure all diseases originating from want of MUSCULAR ACTION and NERVOUS FORCE.

Sold by all Druggists.
